Dotted lines running west from Stroudsburg are turnpike spur being considered. So is dotted line running north from Scranton. Broken line north of Philadelphia is Delaware River Extension now under construction.

House Boosts Department's Appropriation

Washington (AP)—The House broke with long-standing tradition yesterday and voted the Agriculture Department $66,360,841 more than it requested for the coming fiscal year.

Time after time, in an obviously well organized revolt, the House overrode the recommendations of its Appropriations Committee, and finally passed by voice vote a bill giving the department $720,102,654 in cash and $320,500,000 in loan authority.

Three Pike Interchanges To Connect With Poconos

Official names for eight interchanges along the Northeastern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike were made public yesterday. The 110-mile stretch will run from Philadelphia to Scranton.

The extension is a toll road. The interchanges are the points at which motorists can get on or off the extension, and drive on existing highways.

Six of the interchanges lie within 25 miles of Monroe County's borders.

The three closest interchanges are Wilkes-Barre, Pocono and Mahoning Valley Interchanges.

Wilkes-Barre Interchange connects the extension with Route 115 at a point about 10 miles from the northwest boundary of Monroe.

Pocono Interchange connects with Route 940 near White Haven about seven miles west of the county border.

Mahoning Valley Interchange connects with Route 209 at Lehigh, about 10 miles from the southwest border of Monroe.

The commission's listing of interchange titles and the routes with which they connect:

Lansdale, connecting with Route 63; Quakertown, Route 663; Lehigh Valley, U. S. Route 22; Mahoning Valley, U. S. 209; Pocono, Route 940; Wilkes-Barre, Route 115; Wyoming Valley, U. S. Route 315; Scranton, U. S. Routes 6 and 11.

The northeastern extension will leave the Delaware River extension of the turnpike, now under construction, at a point to be known as North East Junction. No toll booths will be located there.

The northeastern Extension is to run from this point, at Plymouth Meeting, Montgomery County, to Scranton, to provide access for motorists and the trucking industry to both the anthracite and Pocono Mountain resort areas.

It is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1956. The 33-mile Delaware extension is due to be opened by next October. This stretch will run from King of Prussia, Montgomery County, to U. S. Route 13, near Bristol, Bucks County. A bridge later will connect with the New Jersey turnpike.

Gov. John S. Fine, an enthusiastic supporter of the Northeastern Extension from the time of its inception, praised the project as a boon to the anthracite coal mining area.

Three interchanges, he declared, were located specially to service this area. These are the ones to be built at Wilkes-Barre, Wyoming Valley and Scranton.

"All were enthusiastically approved by practically all the civic and organizational groups in the district," Fine said in a statement.

Lenten Meditation Springtime of the Soul

Springtime is invigorating because it is new life. Trees, bushes, and grass burst forth with bright new vitality. Our Lord Himself at the Last Supper used one of these healthy trees to illustrate how His life is given to us.

"I am the vine, you are the branches. He who abides in me, and I in him, he bears much fruit." (St. John Chapter 15, verses 5-6.)

The vine conducts life from the roots to the branches through a definite channel, which is between the bark and the wood. The point is that the life is conducted through a definite channel. Now if Christ is the vine and we are the branches we must receive our divine life from a definite source. This life is grace which flows through the channels of the sacraments which Jesus instituted to make us living productive branches.

We must go beyond mere reading and believing in Christ to receive His life. We must receive often the Sacraments He instituted especially during Lent. . . . "he bears much fruit."

Big 3 Join In Proposal For Alliance In Pacific

Paris (AP)—Secretary of State Dulles concluded yesterday a Big Three agreement to work for a Western Pacific defense wall against the spread of Communism.

The final step was taken with joint issuance of a communique by Dulles and French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault spotlighting the war in Indochina as a danger to peace in all South-east Asia.

Dulles' goal was a 10-nation military alliance like NATO.

After the agreement was announced, Dulles left for home by plane. He will report to President Eisenhower on the success of his mission in London and Paris.

The joint statement by Dulles and Bidault guaranteed that France, Britain and the United States would furnish a common front at Geneva when the Far Eastern conference opens April 26.

The statement, similar to the announcement in London Tuesday by Dulles and British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden, was approved by France's Premier Joseph Laniel before it was made public.

The statement said that the war in Indochina threatened peace in the whole Pacific area, adding: "In close association with other interested nations, we will examine the possibility of establishing, within the framework of the United Nations Charter, a collective defense to assure the peace, security and freedom of this area."

"We recognize that our basic objective at the Geneva conference will be to seek the reestablishment of a peace in Indochina which will safeguard the freedom of its people and the independence of The Associated States. We are convinced that the possibility of obtaining this objective depends upon our solidarity."

A high American source told reporters after the announcement that the Korean question would come up first at Geneva. This would leave a margin of time to get going on the military alliance before the Indochina question came up.

If the Geneva conference failed to get a solution in Indochina, the new organization would be ready to function.

To some French suggestions that a negotiated peace in Indochina might result in a coalition government, with some parts of Indochina falling into Communist hands, an American source answered he was certain that Dulles felt a surrender of any part of the area would bring a repetition of past Communist movement into other areas then into still others.

That way, he said, might ultimately lead to a war of greater scope than would be involved in deciding to stand fast now.

The document outlines the allegations Army officials will try to prove in televised public hearings starting April 22.

Informed sources who saw the seven page document termed it even tougher in its statements about McCarthy than a version which had been released earlier.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee, which will conduct the inquiry, refused to make public the document. However, persons in the know said "it presents in more specific language" a list of allegations Army officials are willing to back under oath. The charges are that McCarthy and aides used pressure tactics in efforts to win favored treatment for Schine, a drafted associate.

McCarthy, the Investigations subcommittee chairman, and Roy M. Cohn, its chief counsel, have voiced angry denials of the original version of the accusations. In turn, they have flung bitter countercharges at top Army officials which the subcommittee also has voted to explore in the scheduled public hearings.

After the board had gone, Bangor Board President Merle Mabius passed around to persons in the meeting room a resolution which, he said, Bangor had intended to present.

The resolution offered a one through 12 grade jointure including only Bangor, Roseto and Washington Township with capital expenditures to be based on market value.

Current expenses, the Bangor resolution said, should be paid on a pupil population basis. The project would be set up for five years with a second five-year period automatically following unless a district petitioned to withdraw six months prior to the date of automatic renewal.

Representation on the three-district jointure board would be set up as follows, according to the Bangor resolution:

Bangor — five board members; Washington — two board members; Roseto — two board members.

The Bangor superintendent of schools would have full administrative and supervisory jurisdiction over the joint school system, the resolution said.

The compromise measure calls for 966 million dollars a year for the two fiscal years starting July 1, 1955. The current rate is 652½ million annually through the fiscal year starting next July 1.

Both Byrd's committee and the Senate Banking Committee headed by Chairman Capehart (R-Ind.) have announced plans for formal hearings into housing irregularities disclosed by the White House Monday.

DR. J. ROBERT OPPENHEIMER, physicist who directed the war-time Los Alamos laboratory where the atomic bomb was made, has been presented with charges in Washington that he is a security risk. Past political associations and activities were cited for suspending his access to atomic and hydrogen material. He denies ever being a Red or lobbying against H-bomb development.

Oppenheimer Calls Dean, Lilienthal

Washington (AP)—The two former chairmen of the Atomic Energy Commission, David E. Lilienthal and Gordon Dean will be witnesses for the defense in secret hearings for atom scientist J. Robert Oppenheimer.

Lilienthal, who headed the commission from its start in 1946, said in a statement from his New York office that he would testify in Oppenheimer's behalf.

Dean, who succeeded Lilienthal in 1950, after serving as an AEC commissioner for a year, said only that he had been asked to testify by Oppenheimer's attorney and had agreed.

Disclosure that Lilienthal and Dean would testify came as Secretary of Defense Wilson indicated Oppenheimer, the scientist chief of the World War Two atomic bomb project, was eased out as an adviser to the armed forces last July.

AEC announced Tuesday that—by order of President Eisenhower—it has barred Oppenheimer from access to secret data and has suspended him as one of the nation's foremost atomic consultants pending a new security check.

One allegation cited by the commission, on the basis of information gathered by the FBI from undisclosed sources, is that Oppenheimer obstructed American development of the hydrogen bomb. Oppenheimer has said this is a distortion of his real position.

Dean, who headed AEC from 1950 to mid-1953, told a reporter by telephone from New York he has been asked to testify at a hearing in the Oppenheimer case next Monday and has agreed to do so.

Asked if he would be "for or against" the scientist, Dean replied:

"Let's put it this way—I've been asked to testify by Dr. Oppenheimer's attorney. I can't tell you the nature of my testimony."

Dean was AEC chairman when previous questions about Oppenheimer's admitted past connections with Communists and other left-wingers were raised, and he took no action reflecting on Oppenheimer. A new security check for the physicist was ordered, however, immediately after Lewis L. Strauss succeeded Dean in the post last year.

Wilson was asked about Oppenheimer at a news conference yesterday. After declining at first to discuss the case, he said:

"I am not trying to hurt or smear anybody who has been trying to do a good job for the country."

"Frankly, I have sympathy for anyone who made a mistake and then reformed. But I think they should be reformed somewhere else than in the armed services."

This led to a question whether Oppenheimer still is a consultant to the Defense Department or any of the armed forces.

Wilson said Oppenheimer was a member of the Atomic Energy Commission for the department's Research and Development Board.

But he said that commission was abolished last July, under a general reorganization, and he added with a grin that doing away with it was a "real smooth way" of getting rid of a problem. He gave no further details.

It was about the time the committee was abolished that Strauss became AEC chairman and the review of Oppenheimer's case began.

'Other Fellows' Suspected, Says Sen. McCarthy

Dallas (AP)—Senator McCarthy (R-Wis.) said yesterday, "we've got our eyes on some other fellows" besides Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, suspended atom scientist.

McCarthy, in an interview here, did not name the "other fellows." Oppenheimer, scientific boss of the project which developed the atomic bomb, has been suspended from an advisory post on atomic matters by the Atomic Energy Commission pending a security check.

McCarthy told newsmen: "I've considered Dr. Oppenheimer a security risk for years. One man in a key spot can do more damage than a thousand in little jobs."

Housing Promoters Reaped Fat Profits, Byrd Charges

Washington (AP)—Senator Byrd (D-Va.) declared yesterday that some housing promoters, operating on stockpiles or with no capital at all, got excessive government-insured loans running into millions and reaped fat profits.

He told the Senate the housing program had been marred by extravagance and irresponsibility and said "criminal prosecution may result" if evidence shows government officials acted deliberately in such cases.

Byrd is chairman of the Joint Committee on Reduction of Non-essential Federal Expenditures. The committee began a study of alleged housing irregularities last July, but Byrd complained yesterday that his committee had been "denied the facts" by the government agencies concerned.

He said he would insist that Director Albert M. Cole of the Housing and Home Finance Agency testify "under oath" to furnish the information Byrd said has been withheld so far. "Merely dismissals" of some officials of the Federal Housing Administration will not meet the situation, he added.

Both Byrd's committee and the Senate Banking Committee headed by Chairman Capehart (R-Ind.) have announced plans for formal hearings into housing irregularities disclosed by the White House Monday.

They involve charges that excessive loans were approved both for apartments and for home repair projects promoted by unscrupulous salesmen.

Capehart said yesterday he will ask $250,000 to finance his committee's probe, which will include a check of 7,000 rental housing projects built with FHA-insured mortgages.

He said he will ask President Eisenhower to make available from income tax records the names of 251 builders who allegedly made 75 million dollars profit with the help of excessive FHA loans and said "there may be as much as 500 million dollars involved in this whole business."

Varied Activities Of 12 Clubs Hold Interest Of Junior High Pupils In East Stroudsburg

Students at East Stroudsburg Junior High School have a variety of 12 clubs representing varied interests to occupy extra-curricular time this year.

According to Supervising Principal Theodore Miller, the clubs range in scope from reading to photography and baton twirling.

Each club has an adviser. These advisers were asked during the past four weeks to describe the club's activity program, membership and general purpose.

The following clubs responded: Reading—Mrs. Melva Reid, adviser; Thomas Kintner, student chairman. There are 13 members. Mrs. Reid says, and the purpose of the club is to "promote interest and enjoyment in reading. Part of this enjoyment comes from reading together," the adviser noted.

Each week the reading club devotes its time to a different type of story. So far, Mrs. Reid continues, "We have shivered over mysteries, been surprised at O. Henry, gasped at tall tales and laughed with James Thurber."

As part of the program for club members, recordings have been played, plays dramatized and puppet shows given.

Stamp and Coin Club—Elston Arnt, adviser; Edward Flory, secretary. With 20 members the club attempts to teach children more about stamps and coins with special emphasis on the enjoyment of stamp and coin collecting "at any age." Members display their own individual collections.

Sports Club—Earle R. Miller, adviser; David Hughes, president. Has 37 members; its aim is to "encourage boys to appreciate the opportunity Monroe County offers for outdoor activities such as hunting and fishing," Miller says.

Twirling Club—Mrs. Edna Williams, adviser. Club has nine members; gives members a chance to learn advanced twirling techniques which can be developed and used later in high school.

Student Traffic Patrol—The club serves a practical purpose in that it acts as the "arm of student government within the school." Members are directly responsible to Student Council and the principal for maintaining proper order in hallways when students pass to and from daily classes. Students who violate council regulations on conduct in hallways and passage to and from classes are given "tickets" by patrolmen. These tickets are recorded by the patrol's faculty adviser.

Three or more "tickets" issued to one student means the student will be referred to a special student court for "corrective measures." Cases which are considered "incorrigible" are recommended to the principal.

Projection Club—Edward Parsons, adviser. With 16 active members, the club meets each week on Tuesday mornings to study methods used in operating various types of motion picture projectors.

Practice periods using the machines are also held. Occasionally the club shows an "interesting film" for entertainment and instruction during meetings, Parsons says.

Needlecraft Club—Mrs. Ruth Theison, adviser. With 17 girls making up its membership the club concentrates on making clothing which can be used in the daily lives of members.

The club also takes on special projects—one of which is making chocolate Easter eggs for presentation to General Hospital patients.

Other clubs, for which general information was not given by advisers, are the Camera Club, Varsity Club, Shop Club, Library Club and the Student Council.

Previous stories published in this newspaper, however, have described the makeup and operation of the council and some of the remaining clubs.

Fregans To Speak To Shrine Club

Pocono Mountains Shrine Club meets Monday at 6:30 p.m. at Glen Brook Country Club to hear a talk by Albert J. Fregans, organist and musical director at Stroudsburg Methodist Church.

Widely traveled throughout the world, Mr. Fregans will show a film on trains and model railroads.

Members will also discuss final plans for a ladies night program at Pocono Manor on May 17.

New strength and stamina! Lower upkeep costs!

New Chevrolet Trucks...

do more work per day... more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to new high-compression power, you can maintain faster schedules without driving at higher maximum speeds. Increased acceleration and hill-climbing ability let you save time where it counts.

You save time on deliveries. With new truck Hydra-Matic transmission, you save time at every delivery stop. And you can forget about clutching and shifting for good! It's optional at extra cost on 1/2-, 3/4- and 1-ton Chevrolet trucks.

You save extra trips. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New pick-up bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower for easier loading.

You save with lower upkeep, too. Extra chassis strength saves you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models... bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models... stronger frames in all models.

You save on operating costs. New power saves you money every mile! The "Thrifmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235" and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost) deliver increased operating economy.

And your savings start the day you buy. In fact, they start with the low price you pay and continue over the miles. Chevrolet is America's lowest-priced line of trucks. It's also the truck that has a traditionally higher trade-in value.

Come in and see all the wonderful new things you get in America's number one truck. We'll be glad to give you all the money-saving facts.

Speaker Declares Worthwhile Endeavors Need Full Support To Achieve Desired Results

"We can serve the world if we commit ourselves to some great purpose under God."

This was the concluding remark of Rev. Donald Nowers, pastor of Tobychanna Methodist Church in his Lenten address before Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Roger C. Stimson, chairman of the Support of Churches in Their Spiritual Aims Committee, was in charge of the program.

The speaker told of desires of people for happiness, peace of mind and soul, and efforts to achieve these results.

Many organizations are affiliated with those desires, many projects are supported with indifferent results, but to serve God and country more fully it is necessary to reach a decision to support something worthwhile and follow through, he pointed out.

The need of making sacrifices under the will of God was also emphasized. The speaker declared that lack of service clubs is the church and religion living under the fatherhood of God.

Alan Keiper and assistants told of the financial success of last week's Kiwanis fashion show for the benefit of the YMCA fund. William P. Wells was commended for his efforts.

Merle C. Ostrom, Morris H. Evans and Dr. Paul H. Shiffer, welcomed back from Florida vacations, spoke briefly on experiences in Kiwanis clubs visited by them.

The bowling banquet held at the Elks Club Tuesday night marked the close of the season. Rotary won first place and Kiwanis and Lions were tied for second. A steak dinner was served.

Elwood Hintze, Dr. C. W. Dupee, J. J. Cowley and Harry L. Sutton attended the Riegelsville club meeting last Thursday night, making an inter-club session.

A delegation of the Scranton club will make an inter-club visit with Stroudsburg Wednesday, May 5, and will furnish the program, Dr. C. W. Dupee announced.

Announcement was made Pottstown club won first place in the 17th division club activities standing for January. Stroudsburg and Bethlehem tied for second.

Kiwanians have been invited to attend the Rotary Club meeting at the Penn-Stroud Hotel at 12:10 p.m. today.

Dr. Earl Willhoite led in singing a Lenten hymn. Dr. Dupee welcomed John Hughes, of Allentown, as a guest.

Two Treated For Injuries

Guenther Krohn, Stroudsburg RD3, was treated in the General Hospital dispensary Tuesday for a scalp cut after being accidentally struck on the head with a board at Empire Box Corp.

Also treated was Carl Dippre, Third St., Stroudsburg, who sprained and bruised his left knee playing baseball.

Egg Hunt Scheduled

Mount Pocono—Poconos Memorial Post 903, American Legion, will sponsor their annual Easter egg hunt for the children of Mt. Pocono and surrounding area at 3 p.m. Saturday, weather permitting. In case of inclement weather the affair will be held Sunday.

The hunt will be held on Legion property on Kinney Ave., 200 feet east of Route 611. Prizes will be awarded. The eggs are being colored by the auxiliary members of the post.

Exploit The Turnpike!

Full impact of the Northeastern Extension of the Pennsylvania Turnpike on Monroe County and the Pocono Mountains region could not be accurately appraised until yesterday's pin-point announcement of traffic interchanges.

All observers agreed that the general appraisal, accompanying announcement of where the turnpike itself would be located, augured great things for the Poconos region.

Now comes the accurate story on where the turnpike will have traffic interchanges with highways running through the Poconos and the full effect of the dynamics of this great project are immediately evident.

Perhaps the most significant single decision contained in this announcement is to name one of the interchanges "The Pocono Interchange."

True it is located in Carbon County, but it provides for an interchange on Route 940 only about five miles from Blakeslee Corners. Rt. 940 runs from Blakeslee to Pocono Lake, Pocono Pines, Naomi Pines, Pocono Summit, then past Pocono Manor to connect with Rt. 611 at Swiftwater.

Use of the word "Pocono" for this interchange automatically pin-points to travelers from the entire United States and Canada they are in the famous Pocono Mountains region which contains 80 per cent of the resort operations of the Commonwealth.

It is a subject for sound exploitation. A resource which all the dollars and cents here could not buy.

Turnpike interchanges of benefit to this region do not end with the Pocono Interchange.

There is one at the end of the new turnpike tunnel to be built at Lehigh which is only about ten miles from the Monroe County border and only 15 or 16 miles from Brodheadsville. This is an interchange connecting Rt. 209 with the turnpike.

Still a third known as the "Wilkes-Barre Interchange" on Rt. 115 is only about 17 miles from Blakeslee Corners.

The Poconos and Monroe County have fared well at the hands of Gov. Fine, the Turnpike Commission and, we suspect, others in Harrisburg who recognize the needs of this community.

It speaks their realization that the dynamics of this area are sound; that its leaders and its people are progressive, and that the turnpike, conversely will benefit from the impact of these factors existing here through greater traffic usage from the region to the turnpike.

There remains only the immediate need for a unified approach by all regional interests to soundly exploit the advantages of the turnpike and the well-placed interchanges.

Out of that will come all the benefits possible to be gained and probably the additional advantage of hastening the day when the Turnpike Commission builds that all-important spur from a point near Christians, Carbon County to the Delaware Water Gap Bridge—across the southern portion of Monroe County.

Now, we are certain, is the proper time to get all major interests of the region together to chart exactly where we are going and how to exploit the advantages being handed to us.

Champion of Safety

One of the nation's foremost champions of safety in our busy mechanized world is dead. T. Elmer Transeau, for the past 15 years director of the State Bureau of Highway Safety, and identified for more than a generation with traffic safety planning, devoted much of his adult life to the work in which he believed so implicitly.

Elmer Transeau was not one to insist that everything must be accomplished overnight. He realized the difficulties inherent in accomplishing things rapidly in our political world, but never lost faith in the ideal of constant improvement in the safety program.

His advice and suggestions were sought wherever men met to discuss their traffic problems.

Mr. Transeau's help in the affairs of his adopted community and of the commonwealth constituted a major contribution to the ceaseless struggle for a better traffic safety record. That his advice and counsel will be missed is only too obvious.

The Big Show Nears

With the issue over the Petres case settled by Washington in an even more sweeping manner than Joe McCarthy asked, the big Who-Said-What-Tro-

Whom-and-How-TV-inquiry will begin with the score already 1 to 0 in favor of Joe and the contest proceeding with shorter fences. It was McCarthy's fight to stop prying and honorable discharges for possible subversives that caused the ruckus leading to the big video probe. Suddenly Washington came out with everything McCarthy sought, to protect the armed service against dirty work.

With the TV inquiry about to begin, Secretary Wilson has made it harder for even drafties to get into the army. They can get rejected for humming "The Volga Boatman."

No matter what comes of the TV quiz into what was said at restaurant luncheons, and whether or not there can be honest differences in recollections of words used in heated phone conversations, Joe steps to the plate next week with the best spring-training average. Ray Jenkins, the new committee counsel, now faces a tough problem in how to pitch. His task would now unsettle even Chief Reynolds or Eddie Lopat. We have imagined an interview with him:

Q—Is there any truth in the report there is a hassle over the inquiry theme song, you favoring "Tennessee Waltz" or "Dixie," McCarthy desiring "All Alone By The Telephone" and Stevens favoring "Boola, Boola"?

A—No, and the Pentagon has not requested, "I Love Doctor Petres in the Spring."

Q—Have you had a TV test?

A—Is it necessary?

Q—This case will be on the screen in countless homes to be judged by people who are experts on Dragnet and The Big Story. Have you followed video routines much?

A—All I know is that down in the Tennessee hills, Estes Kefauver still rates with many fans as a better video star than Godfrey.

Q—You say you have no feeling for or against McCarthy, Stevens, Adams, Schine, Cohn, the Army, the dental profession, Brooklyn or Senate inquiries. Isn't this claiming a world record for neutrality and coolness in the face of editorial comment?

A—Could be. I'm so impartial it's a positive embarrassment in these days of free-for-all oratorical conflicts.

Q—You say you have had 500 or 600 homicide cases in your career. How does homicide enter into this case? Nobody's been murdered.

A—From what I read in the papers they all claim they were.

Q—You also state that you never had a client go to the electric chair. How does that reference apply in this case?

A—Well, this time I start off by putting people in the hot seat.

Q—Have you received any offer to join a circus show?

A—No, but I realize that my Tennessee Valley neutrality makes me eligible.

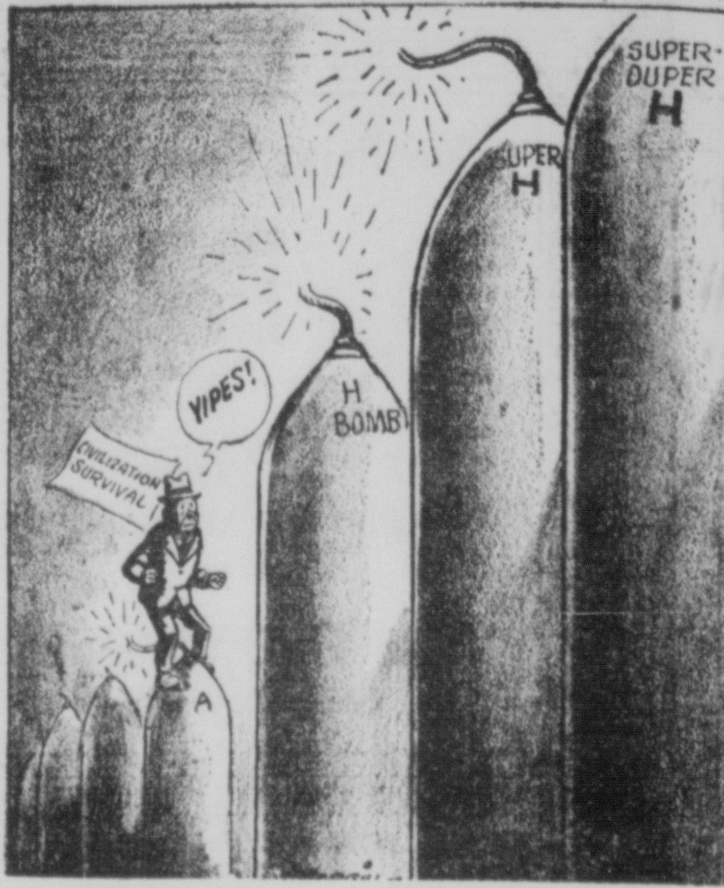

Q—Mr. Jenkins, why did you accept this job?

A—That puzzles me, too. There MUST be easier ways to get into a general disturbance!

When twins were born in an Oregon Indian tribe, it was the custom to put one or both to death.

A—No, and the Pentagon has

Robert S. Allen Reports

Ike Tells Martin He Will Not Be Candidate Second Term

Washington—Speaker Joe Martin has the latest and most authoritative word on that widely-discussed question of what President Eisenhower is likely to do about a second term.

Inside source of Martin's revealing information is the President himself.

Their talk took place in the White House. At the close of a conference with Republican congressional leaders, the President drew Martin aside and, to his surprise, broached the subject.

Previously, both privately and publicly, the President had carefully avoided discussing a second term. On this occasion, he spoke jokingly but earnestly.

Following is Martin's account of this significant incident:

"I read in the paper," the President began, "that you are predicting I will run for a second term. You wouldn't like to bet a little money on that, would you?"

"Oh, I don't want to take your money," grinned Martin.

"You wouldn't," replied the President seriously. "I don't want a second term. Four years in the White House is enough for any man."

For a few moments the two men looked at one another, silent and unsmiling.

"I'm sure you mean that and say it with the utmost sincerity," Martin finally said. "But things just don't work out that way for a first-term President. You wait and see what happens when 1956 begins to roll around. Regardless of your views, you will be drafted. No President can quit after only one term, and you have to be re-elected. Why, you will be to take another term to fully realize the fruits of your program."

Again smiling broadly, the President shook his head slowly.

"I'd still like to make that bet that your prediction will be wrong," he insisted.

"Nope, Mr. President," grinned Martin, shaking his head. "I won't take you up on that. But I'm sure you will find that I am right."

Expensive parley—One thing is already certain regarding the impending Geneva Conference with Russia and Red China.

It is going to be an expensive parley.

As a starter, the State Department wants $250,000 to cover costs and expects to have to ask for more money later on.

This was disclosed at a private meeting of the Senate Appropriations Committee by Harold G. Kissick, head of the State Department's Division of International Conferences. He also revealed these other unpublished items:

That the U. S. will have a staff of more than 80 at this conference, and that $65,000 will have to be put up as this country's share of the over-all cost of the meeting.

The Senate Committee's discussion sheds an unusual light on the Geneva Conference. Following are the highlights of this inside picture as recorded in the stenographic transcript:

Senator Carl Hayden, Ariz.,

ranking Democrat, asked most of the questions. Neither he nor the other committeemen were hostile. Their primary purpose seemed to be to learn why the special fund was being asked and the reason for its size. They appeared to think it was unduly large.

"Was there any inkling before the Berlin Conference that it would lead to the Geneva meeting?" asked Hayden.

"No, there was not," asserted Kissick.

"Then Geneva was a direct and unanticipated outgrowth of the Berlin Conference," said Hayden.

"That is correct," declared Kissick.

He assured the committeemen that Secretary of State Dulles will head the U. S. delegation, and that reports to the contrary are untrue.

"Why is it that the Berlin Conference cost us only $35,000 while you are asking for nearly ten times as much for the Geneva meeting?" demanded Hayden.

"I'm not against providing this money, but I'd like to have an explanation for the big difference between these two conferences."

Kissick explained that in Berlin the American delegation was able to use both Army and West German facilities and thus cut down costs. At Geneva, each country will have to provide its own accommodations.

At the Committee's request, Kissick submitted the following detailed explanation of the special fund:

"This estimate is based on experience and costs in similar undertakings. Certain matters presently under discussion and negotiations between the four major powers yet to be resolved, could conceivably result in increased costs to the U. S. The current estimate of $250,000, provides $185,000 for the expense of the U. S. delegation, and $65,000 for the U. S. share of the common costs of the conference."

"In a meeting of this nature where there will be no host government or organization there are certain facilities which must be available to all participants and the costs therefore are borne by all participants. Such facilities would include interpretation in the official languages of the conference, translations, documentations, etc."

George Sokolsky Says...

Court-Martial Of Admiral Kimmel Would Determine Where Pearl Harbor Blame Rests

A Court-Martial Is Required
The publication of "The Final Secret of Pearl Harbor," by Rear

Adm. Robert A. Theobald, really calls for the court-martial of Rear Adm. Husband E. Kimmel. Only by such a process can justice be done to one of the two men who have been accused of the crime of Pearl Harbor without ever having been given a trial. The other, Gen. Walter C. Short, died.

That so-called Japanese sneak attack cost the American people 3,203 dead, 1,272 wounded, Fleet Adm. William F. Halsey says in his foreword to Adm. Theobald's book.

"I have always considered Adm. Kimmel and Gen. Short to be splendid officers who were thrown to the wolves as scapegoats for something over which they had no control. They had to work with what they were given, both in equipment and information. They are our outstanding military martyrs."

Neither patriotism nor wartime security measures can, in this year 1954, be used as an excuse to cover up the crime of Pearl Harbor. The negligence was either at Pearl Harbor or in the Pentagon. Someone blundered or Pearl Harbor could not have happened. Adm. Theobald puts the blame directly upon President Franklin D. Roosevelt and Gen. George Marshall; the official record puts the blame on Adm. Kimmel and Gen. Short. Somebody is incorrect. A court-martial could produce the facts.

Adm. Theobald says:

"It is firmly believed that those in Washington who knew the facts, decided from the first that considerations of patriotism and loyalty to their wartime Commander-in-Chief required that a veil of secrecy should be drawn about the President's handling of the situation which culminated in the Pearl Harbor attack."

Enough of these men are alive to give their testimony. Gen. George Marshall is alive as are Adm. Kimmel and Admirals Theobald and Halsey. Adm. Theobald's charge is that President Roosevelt deliberately needed Japan into war. He states his charges as follows:

"To implement the solution of his problem, the President: (1) instituted a successful campaign to correct the Nation's military unpreparedness; (2) offered Germany repeated provocations, by violations of neutrality and diplomatic usage; (3) applied ever-increasing diplomatic-economic pressure upon Japan, which reached its sustained climax on July 25, 1941, when the United States, Great Britain, and the Netherlands stopped their trade with Japan and subjected her to almost complete economic encirclement; (4) made mutual commitments with the British Prime Minister at Newfoundland in August, 1941, which promised mutual support in the event that the United States, Great Britain, or a third country not then at war were attacked by Japan in the Pacific; (5) terminated the Washington conference with the note of Nov. 26, 1941, which gave Japan no choice but surrender or war; (6) retained a weak Pacific Fleet in Hawaiian waters, despite contrary naval advice."

When Hitler followed Napoleon to Moscow, he made the same mistake that Napoleon did and he reduced Germany to a subject nation. But he also involved the rest of the world in a state of permanent war and he set off revolutionary changes in Asia which he could not have anticipated. Anti-Picketing Injunction Hearing Opens In County Court

Arguments
To Be Heard
April 26

Four and a half hours of testimony in Monroe County Court yesterday marked the first step in a petition by Hanford L. Cleveland, plumbing contractor, seeking an injunction to halt picketing at the YMCA building project in Stroudsburg.

Judge Fred W. Davis, presiding, adjourned the all-day hearing at 4 p. m. until 9 a. m. Monday, April 26 and instructed counsel for both sides to submit briefs in advance and be prepared then to argue the petition.

Aside from four witnesses questioned during the day the courtroom spectators numbered fewer than a half dozen.

Cleveland's petition is filed against Local 655, Plumbers and Steamfitters, Ralph Paul, their business agent and the United Association of Journeymen and Apprentices of the Plumbing and Pipe Fitting Industry of the United States and Canada. Cleveland is being represented by Attorneys Elmer Christine and Walter Olenick.

Forrest Mervine informed the court as proceedings opened that he was appearing on behalf of Local 655 and Ralph Paul only, leaving the international union without representation at the hearing.

Christine submitted six exhibits in evidence during the day, all of them contracts and supplements, performance bond copies and a letter sent to Cleveland dated Mar. 31 by Paul in which he asked the East Stroudsburg contractor to arrange a meeting with his employees to discuss union affiliation. A copy of this letter sent to Dr. Joseph Noonan, chairman of the YMCA building committee, also was recorded in evidence.

The Cleveland complaint was defined as "forcing and coercing the plaintiff into unlawful interference with the freedom of his employees to bargain collectively, and engaging in a course of conduct calculated to coerce plaintiff to require his employees to become members of the union."

At the outset of the hearing Christine asked that a petition of Local 655 ordering Cleveland to bring all his books, records and contracts into court, be ruled out as an unreasonable demand.

Mervine questioned if the local court had jurisdiction since the business involved shipments across state lines. He later limited the period of records to "three or four years" after Christine challenged the petition as "a fishing expedition."

Judge Davis said he would hold the petition under advisement until the hearing determines what books are needed.

Later in the day both attorneys had incorporated into the records a statement that 90 per cent of Cleveland's goods used in business are shipped to East Stroudsburg by Pennsylvania jobbers, but that 40 per cent of that merchandise is manufactured outside Pennsylvania.

Mervine's motion that the bill in equity for injunction be dismissed because county and borough enforcement officers were not served information the hearing was being held brought the argument from Olenick that such papers were not necessary. He quoted a 1937 anti-injunction suit. Judge Davis called a 15-minute recess to study the quoted act.

Returning to the courtroom Olenick placed on record affidavits showing notices had been sent Stroudsburg's Police Chief James McConnell and Sheriff Jacob Altenose. Mervine objected on the ground the borough "chief" was the Burgess. Judge Davis reserved decision on this issue then called for resumption of the hearing.

Cleveland was the first on the stand. He said he entered business in 1941 and employs a maximum of 14 men, none of whom is union, to the best of his knowledge, he added.

The contractor claimed he never entered into contract or agreement with Local 655 and related his men started work on the YMCA Sept. 28. Two hours after starting, he said, other tradesmen on the job walked off and a picket, identified as Ralph Paul, appeared.

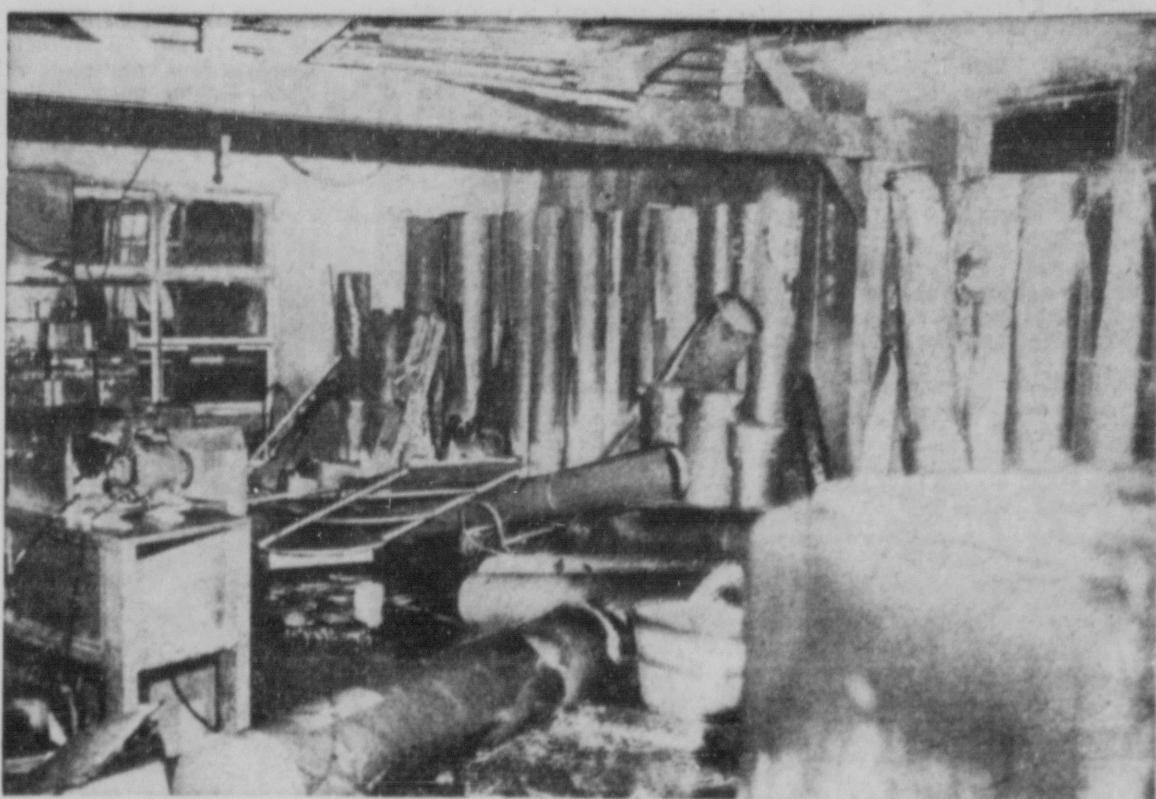

Cleveland said his firm was picketed in June, 1950 by the union while the General Hospital was under construction. He said this grievance involved non-payment of fines by some of his workers who were union members in 1949.

Cleveland recalled conversation at two negotiation meetings called by the Y board of directors last November at the Indian Queen Hotel in an effort to resolve the work stoppage.

He said union officials proposed he held "the key" to the problem. He explained they said he could either turn his contract over to a union plumbing firm, or have his men join the union.

Cleveland quoted the union officials as saying "the union didn't care much about the YMCA, it's new members they're after." He said he was told all he had to do was see his men signed up with the union and the picket would go off duty that day.

The contractor said 30 per cent of his contract work is now finished, and by the end of this week his men will have gone as far as they can go. He explained that mason and carpentry work would have to be done before his men can complete their work.

Cleveland, answering Mervine's questions, said he did some work in New Jersey three years ago but "since that time I have quit all out-of-state work." He said he had no written or verbal contract with the union but that in 1949 "about 50 per cent" of his employees were union. It was then that the hospital work was started and the grievance about non-payment of fines followed.

Cleveland said Paul offered to drop fines and reinstate the men into the union when the YMCA picketing started.

He also testified the lone picket still on duty at the Y project never interfered with his work, as far as he knew. He observed that picketing was peaceful and no stoppage of work occurred where he was concerned.

Asked by Mervine why he petitioned for an injunction if his work wasn't affected Cleveland answered the holdup was making it difficult for his men to continue their jobs, especially since they now depend on the work of other craftsmen before they can advance.

Cleveland also said it has been stated publicly that he is the one responsible for holding up the job, and argued the work stoppage was not his responsibility. Cleveland said the holdup will probably cost him $400 or $500 more than it would under normal contract conditions if no stoppage occurred.

Holt Wyckoff, president of the Y board of directors, related conversation at the Indian Queen meetings Nov. 12 and 18. John R. Wilson, Y secretary and Dr. Noonan gave substantially the same testimony as Wyckoff. The related conversation concerned the union-contractor dispute as to who was responsible for the delay in building.

It was pointed out in testimony that Paul said he made repeated attempts to get Cleveland's employees together to discuss union affiliation, but none of the efforts succeeded.

Churches To Hold Special Services On Good Friday

Special afternoon services will be held in most churches in the Stroudsburgs Friday.

In East Stroudsburg, a Community Good Friday service will be held from 12:30 p. m. to 2 p. m. in First Baptist Church. Seven area churches will cooperate in this service.

Among them, according to host pastor, Rev. Norman Savage, will be East Stroudsburg Methodist, Presbyterian and Grace Lutheran Churches; Shawnee Presbyterian, Christian Missionary Alliance and Salvation Army.

Pastors from these churches will also take part in the service, Rev. Savage said.

In Stroudsburg no actual "community service" has been planned. One church—First Stroudsburg Presbyterian—will play host to pastors and congregations from six other local churches, including Delaware Water Gap Presbyterian and Zion Reformed Church in Stroudsburg.

Rev. Ernest T. Campbell is the host pastor. Rev. Campbell and pastors from all other churches taking part will officiate during the services.

At Stroudsburg Methodist Church, Rev. Roger C. Stinson will be assisted by two other clergymen—his son, Rev. Roger C. Stinson Jr. and Rev. James Pain—in the special Good Friday service on the "Seven Last Words from the Cross." This is the traditional theme chosen for most other services in the area.

At St. John's Lutheran Church, Stroudsburg, the annual three-hour Good Friday service will be conducted beginning at 12:05 p. m., continuing until 3 p. m., according to Rev. Dr. P. N. Wohlson, pastor.

Library Closed Friday, Saturday

Monroe County's public library in Stroud Community House will be closed all day Good Friday and Saturday morning.

This means the library will be closed from tonight's regular closing hour until noon on Monday, the regular opening time.

The service will be divided into periods of about 25 minutes each. Each period will present a message from the Scripture, special prayers and music.

Assisting Rev. Wohlson will be Rev. E. T. Horn, Rev. Orion Elchner, Rev. J. B. Bergstresser and Rev. Marvin Dewalt.

Fireman Hurt When Struck By Ladder

Stroudsburg fireman George Brodhead was recovering yesterday after being struck by a falling ladder at Tuesday night's major fire in Bank Alley.

Brodhead was among the first firemen on the scene. He was standing by one of the smaller trucks and preparing to man a hose, when the accident occurred.

This was how Assistant Chief Webb Heller described the accident.

On the roof of the burning building was a temporary ladder which had been left there during remodeling work. Firemen on one side of the building turned their hoses on the roof.

The stream of water dislodged the ladder and knocked it over the peak of the roof. It started to fall down the other side.

Heller ran forward to catch the ladder. He managed to deflect it a little, but the ladder struck Brodhead on the head.

Heller told fire policeman Henry Ruster to take Brodhead to the hospital. He was released after treatment yesterday from his family physician. A scalp gash required five stitches to close.

New Building To Be Erected

What happens when an established Stroudsburg business vanishes in a cascade of flame and smoke?

After 36 sleepless hours Darrell Gehris had the answer yesterday: "Start over again."

Tuesday night Gehris stood among other spectators in Bank Alley watching the Monroe County General Flooring Co. consumed by fire, then smothered under tons of water.

Gehris, manager of the firm, said yesterday a new building will be started as soon as possible after the wreckage and ashes of the old one are carted away. It will be a one-story structure.

Meanwhile, a temporary office will be maintained in a building to be erected at the rear of the Easton home, 726 Ann St.

"It's wonderful how people go along with you at a time like this. You just don't realize what friends are until something like this happens," Gehris said.

State To Open Bids Today On Construction Of Bridge, Reconstruction Of Broad St.

Bids will be opened today by officials of the State Highway Department on construction of a new bridge across McMichael's Creek and the reconstruction of Broad St.

R. E. Boyer, district engineer of the State Highway Department out of Allentown, said yesterday bids will be opened this morning in Harrisburg.

The project calls for widening the traffic lane on the north side of Route 611 from Broad St. for a considerable distance up Foxtown hill to provide a new traffic lane for turning to the new Broad St.

Plans for this work also include cleaning up a drainage situation now dumping water into South Stroudsburg residential properties. Borough of Stroudsburg will pick up the new drainage line with a pipe line installation on Clermont Ave.

Broad St., as reconstructed, will be 30 feet wide with curbs and gutters. Parking will be confined to the west side of the street only.

New bridge at Fifth St. will replace a badly worn structure formerly owned by the County of Monroe, but made a part of the state highway system by legislation which took Broad St. off the borough street system.

Bridge will break straight off the curve at the foot of Broad St. hill with a side turn to reach VFW property and Storm St.

Span of the bridge will run from the edge of the McMichael's Creek at Broad St. to an existing flood wall. Remainder of the distance over the mill race and a spot of undeveloped land—will be over a roadway erected on a deep dirt fill.

Two 36-inch cast iron pipes will carry water from the head gate of the mill race, where a new intake box is to be constructed to the race east of the fill to supply water to the Holland Thread Co. officials said.

The County of Monroe is making a contribution of close to $22,000 toward the project.

Reserve Unit Meets Tonight

The Satellite Platoon of the Sixth Truck Co., Marine Corps Reserve will hold its weekly meeting at 6:30 p. m. today at the American Legion, Mount Airy home.

Capt. Joseph Murray, Barrett Township School coach, will be in charge of instruction. Sgt. Calvin Dennis will conduct the lecture in motor vehicle driver responsibility, running gear, fire and accident prevention, hand signals, road rules and driving regulations.

The Sixth Truck Co. has reached 43 per cent of its full strength of officers and enlisted men. Anyone interested can contact Capt. Murray at Cresco 5621 or Capt. Walters, Stroudsburg 6075-J-2.

Michael Palmisano, 79 W. Broad St., Stroudsburg, enlisted in the Sixth Truck Co. last week.

In some places in Indochina's Red River Valley rice bowl, the population runs 6,000 to the square mile.

John Keiper, 78, Dies At Pocono Pines

John Edwin Keiper, 78, Pocono Pines, died at the home of his son John Keiper Jr. at 11:30 a. m. yesterday.

Surviving are eight sons, John Jr., George of Easton, Thornton, Charles and Robert of Stroudsburg, James of Pocono Manor, Device and Nelson, Pocono Pines; six daughters, Mrs. Sarah Wilson, Mrs. Carl Anglenyer, and Mrs. Deborah Strunk, all of Stroudsburg, Mrs. Russell Hoffman, Brodheadville, Mrs. John Jaskolka, Mount Pocono, and Mrs. Ted Mushinsky, Delaware Water Gap; 27 grandchildren and 20 great-grandchildren; a sister, Mrs. John Meekes, Pocono Pines.

Services will be at 2 p. m. Saturday at Gantzborn funeral home, Tannersville, with Rev. Joseph Helle of Pocono Lake Methodist Church, officiating. Burial will be at Pocono Lake Cemetery.

Friends may call at the funeral home after 7 p. m. Friday.

Darlene Miller Funeral Held

Funeral services for Darlene L. Miller, nine-year-old daughter of Mrs. James Counterman, Easton, were held at 2 p. m. yesterday in Lanterman funeral home.

Rev. Harold Eaton officiated. Interment was made in Sand Hill Cemetery. Pallbearers were John and Dale Vandergrift, Charles Meixwell and John Hess.

Rally To Launch Muhlenberg Drive

Allentown — The Ministerium's Appeal for Muhlenberg College will get under way with a ministerium rally on Sunday, April 25. The rally will be held in Memorial Hall. Muhlenberg's new $650,000 physical education building, at 3:30 p.m.

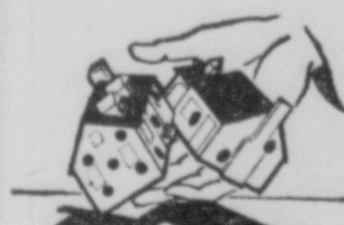

At a special meeting on Dec. 11, 1953, the Lutheran Ministerium of Pennsylvania voted to raise $1,500,000 to obtain the objectives of a debt free and co-educational college. Rev. Luther F. Schlenker, Perkasie, has been named director of the appeal.

By the ministerium's action the first $300,000 raised through the appeal will be used as emergency debt reduction, the next $450,000 for the construction of a men's dormitory, the following $100,000 for the renovation of West Hall as a women's dormitory, and the final $650,000 to free the college of debt.

Four Choirs Combine For Dawn Service

Bartonsville — A rehearsal of the 40 voice choir that will sing at the Easter dawn service at 6 a.m. on Hawke's Hill between Bartonsville and Snyder'sville was held at St. John's Lutheran Church Tuesday night.

The choir is composed of members of the four churches of the Hamilton Lutheran parish namely Christ Church, Hamilton Square; Zion, Brodheadsville; Mt. Eaton, Saylorsburg, and St. John's, Bartonsville. Director and organist is Mrs. Floyd Cyphers of the Bartonsville church.

Program Set For Meeting Of Churchmen

The sixth annual conference of the Diocese of Bethlehem Episcopal Churchmen will be held May 8 and 9 in the Inn at Buck Hill Falls. Registration will begin at 1 p.m. on Saturday, May 8. First assembly will be held at 2 p.m. in the East Room.

Rev. John Krumm will deliver the first lecture at 2:30 p.m. in the main auditorium at the Inn. Rev. Krumm will speak on "The Mission of the Church in the Modern World."

Round table discussions and panels will occupy the remaining time during the first afternoon.

Rev. Frederick J. Warnecke, bishop of Bethlehem, will present the goals and strategy of the diocese in relation to the general theme of the conference.

Church and lay leaders from the diocesan area are expected to attend the conference in large numbers, officials indicated. The conference continues through 1 p.m. Sunday, May 9.

Candlelight Service To Take Place

The congregation of the Presbyterian Church of the Mountain, Delaware Water Gap, will have a candlelight communion service tonight at 7:30.

The senior choir will sing the cantata, "The Crucifixion," with Alex Bensinger as soloist. James Anthony, III, will sing the invitation hymn, "Come To The Saviour Now." Mrs. Paul R. Maxwell will preside at the organ.

The minister, Rev. Luther Elvin Markin, will speak briefly, using the theme, "Some Possible Results From Communion."

Rev. Markin officiated last Sunday at a baptismal service for Cynthia Ann Carlton, four-month-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Carlton.

Conditions Considered Ideal For Opening Of Trout Season In State At 5 A.M. Today

Harrisburg (AP)—Ideal weather, record pre-season stocking and perfect stream conditions added up to what Pennsylvania fishermen hoped would be a successful trout season opening at 5 a. m. today.

The season ends at midnight July 31-August 1, with fishing legal 24 hours a day, 7 days a week. Landowners' consent must be secured for Sunday fishing.

"If we continue to have the kind of weather we've had the last few days opening day really will be wonderful," said Charles A. French, executive director of the fish commission.

(The official weather forecast for the Poconos region called for considerable cloudiness and warm today with scattered showers likely in the afternoon. A high of 72-76 degrees was predicted.)

Last year opening hour anglers were chilled by fast freezing temperatures although the day warmed up quickly after sunrise.

"We completed our record pre-season stocking program, totaling 2 1/2 million trout and weighing 375 tons on Monday," French said. "Except for a few scattered isolated spots where we continue to negotiate for the removal of no trespassing signs, every public fishable stream in the state has been stocked."

The game commission official disclosed that streams in 66 of the state's 67 counties were in on the stocking operation. The only exception in the 2 1/2 month program was Montour County. Last year Northumberland, Montgomery, Allegheny and Green county streams were not in on the pre-season stocking.

The pre-season stocking total amounts to about 100,000 better than last year. Another million trout will be stocked in mid-May.

As for the condition of the streams, this was French's observation:

"Right now, considering the state as a whole, the streams are in as perfect condition as I've ever seen them." Water levels lowered by last fall's droughts have been remedied in a majority of cases.

Eligible to take part in today's annual rush for a first day try are a record number of licensed fishermen. Everyone over 16 years must have a license.

The commission estimated that about 730,000 persons have been licensed to fish in the state during 1954. That includes about 703,000 resident fishermen, some 25,000 more than last year; about 27,000 non-resident permit holders and another 3,000 to 8,000 tourists who hold special licenses good for weekend or five days of fishing.

In addition an estimated 1/4 million anglers under 16 will be out for trout during the 168 day season. The resident license, good for a year, costs $2.50 and is issued through the State Department of Revenue only.

Rules and regulations for 1954 are unchanged from last spring. The important ones:

Minimum legal size is 6 inches. One day limit is eight. Possession limit at any time is eight.

No restrictions on type of lure.

Meanwhile a 16-mile stretch of Huntingdon County stream was opened for today's onrush when landowners removed no trespassing signs. The action along Standing Stone Creek followed a court decision acquitting a Huntingdon County farmer of violating the state game code in killing a deer. The Fish Commission completed stocking 6,000 trout in the creek and its tributary yesterday.

Judge Rhodes On College Committee

President Judge of Superior Court Chester H. Rhodes, Stroudsburg, is one of a group of prominent men now preparing a drive for $1,500,000 in funds for Muhlenberg College.

The fund drive officially opens on Sunday, April 25 at 3 p.m. with a rally to be held on the college campus.

Open to all Lutherans in the Pennsylvania Ministerium, the rally will be held in Memorial Hall, the college's new $650,000 physical education building.

A highlight will be music by a 650-voice girls' chorus. All Lutheran churches will take part in the appeal.

The million and a half dollar goal was set at a special meeting of the Ministerium last December. Primary purpose is to eliminate indebtedness of the college.

Central opening of highly-polished aluminum surface of the mirror permits close observation of specimens being heated at temperatures up to 8,500 degrees Fahrenheit.

Sun Mirror Melts Metals Once Believed Flame-Proof

By ANDREW R. BOONE

Central Press Correspondent

San Diego, Calif.—Standing on a remote mountain top 50 miles or so from this city, a furnace is heating materials of many kinds until they melt and flow away.

Yet no flame, either gas or electricity, touches the furnace. Sunshine furnishes the power.

Looking at the sun furnace, you'd vow it's little more than a big mirror. You'd be right. There's a trick—a gimmick, if you'd prefer—to the ease with which Convair scientists melt metals and ceramics ordinary flames wouldn't affect at all.

They bring them very carefully to the focal point of the mirror, which is shaped something like the Big Eye on Palomar. Like the small end of an egg. At the focal point, all the sun's heat gathered by the 25 square feet of mirror concentrates to produce intense heat.

IF YOU could measure that heat, you'd find it reaches a value about 85 per cent as high as that on the sun's surface. That's hot. It can melt anything man has yet been able to put together as an alloy.

Dr. Willi M. Conn, a Rockhurst college physicist, developed the sun furnace. For a time, it was used to test spark plug insulation. Then Convair took it over, and added a few embellishments. Such as a motor drive that keeps it aimed at the sun as the sun moves throughout the day. That's so they can give prolonged heat treatments to selected specimens.

Basic part of the instrument is the 120-inch polished aluminum mirror. Heat collected at the focal point melts a steel bolt within a few seconds.

CONVIAIR scientists have found several advantages in using the solar furnace for research projects. Heating is accomplished under "pure" conditions. There is no interference from electric or magnetic fields or gasses which often occurs when other types of furnaces are used.

Heat treating or melting and freezing of samples can be observed up to the highest temperatures. So brilliant is the heat spot, researchers must look through glasses so dark they're almost black.

Principal of the furnace's operation is illustrated by using a flashlight reflector to light a cigarette. Sufficient heat is focused by such a reflector for a smoker to light up.

A BRIDGE structure spanning the mirror a short distance beyond the focal point supports the specimen holder. After part melts, adjacent regions are moved into the focal spot by means of a motor-driven screw.

The bridge also supports a cylindrical barrel made of aluminum. The barrel shades part of the mirror from the specimen so the amount of solar radiation concentrated on the specimen can be controlled.

Observers can stand within a 22-inch opening, smack in the mirror's center, to make adjustments and view what's going on at the heat point.

Why all this heat? To develop metals and ceramics that won't melt. How will they be used for defense? You'll have to guess.

Pocono High Student Wins FFA Contest

Norbert Vishensky, Pocono Township High School student, won first place in the FFA public speaking competition at Stroudsburg High School this week and Pen Argyl's FFA chapter gained top position in parliamentary procedure.

Wilmer Frisbie, vocational agriculture supervisor for Monroe-Northampton Counties, introduced contestants. Winners will go to Tunkhannock Monday, April 26, where the district finals will begin at 10 a.m.

Second place in public speaking went to Allen Hower, of Pen Argyl, and the Pocono Township School FFA officers won second position for parliamentary procedure.

Officers of the winner Pen Argyl team include Hower, president; James Lilly, vice president; Robert Coleman, secretary; Russell Hahn, treasurer; Angelo Daffe, reporter; Bruce Letson, sentinel and Dale Kessler, advisers.

Polk Township's FFA officers are Roger Christman, president; Sherwood Smith, vice president; Ernest Kleintop, secretary; Neal Murphy, treasurer; William Petkus, reporter; Kenneth Hawk, sentinel and John Anwalt, adviser. Judges were Dr. Nathan Meyer of East Stroudsburg State Teachers College, and Walter Sebring, assistant superintendent of Monroe County schools. Vocational agriculture instructors of the various schools in the area assisted with the contest.

Seed Treatment Is Recommended

Seed treatment gave outstanding results in increased stands of peas, sweet corn and lima beans in extension demonstrations last year, reports County Agent A. E. Ifft. Cool, wet weather resulted in poor stands with untreated seed in many gardens.

In one pea seed treatment demonstration where several fungicides were used, seed treatment gave 160 per cent increase in stand of good plants. In two sweet corn seed treatment demonstrations, the increases with fungicide alone gave 27 to 53 per cent increase in stands. These demonstrations also indicate that for best results, captan or thiram should be used at two ounces per bushel.

Growers can not afford to plant untreated seeds and should see the County Agent for the latest suggestions or materials and amounts to use, according to extension plant pathologists of Pennsylvania State University.

Dean Funeral Services Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Anna Dreher Dean of Thomas St., Stroudsburg, were held yesterday in the Daniel Warner funeral home. Rev. Ernest Campbell, Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church, officiated. Interment was made in Stroudsburg Cemetery. Pallbearers were Fred Clark, Walter Dreher, Alexander Lee, Stanley Grace, Amos Storm, Guy Dean III.

In South Africa's Kruger Park there is no restriction on the movements of wild animals, but the people who visit the park are forbidden to leave their cars except at specified points.

Gra-Y Boys To Swim At Bethlehem Y

At 1:30 p.m. today 35 boys from various Gra-Y Clubs in this county will leave from the Stroudsburg YMCA site for an "out-of-season" swimming lesson at the Bethlehem Y.

Clubs represented will be Blackhawk, Panther, Skull and Eagle Gra-Y.

Other Gra-Y activities during the past month have been a baseball game between Blackhawk and Panther Gra-Y on April 9. Panther won 16 to 4.

The Skull Gra-Y of Morey School hiked to Delaware Water Gap fire-tower on Saturday, April 10, in preparation for longer spring hikes. Norm Snyder, a student at State Teachers College is the club leader.

The Gra-Y clubs are part of the county YMCA's general program for boys in fourth, fifth and sixth grades. Each club has an adult leader; meets no less than five times monthly.

BALLERINA Alicia Markova, 43, said that the Liverpool Philharmonic Society, England, had delivered her "the greatest insult of my life" by banning a scheduled performance in its hall. The society claimed that "dancing might damage the delicate machinery under the stage." It is a hydraulic lift which carries the 72-piece orchestra to the stage from the pit. Miss Markova weighs 98 pounds.

Power Of Women Told GOP Council

There are more registered Republican Women in Pennsylvania than there are men; and moreover, women control 60 per cent of the money in the world, the members of the Monroe Council of Republican Women were told in two quite different reports at their meeting yesterday afternoon at the Stroud Community House.

Mrs. Floyd Bachman, in reporting on the candidates to be elected at the primaries on May 18, pointed out the responsibility of women Republicans who now outnumber the men in registration in the state. The council plans to help in a telephone campaign to get out the voters in each ward of the county.

The fact that women control most of the money in the world was brought out in the talk by Foster Minnich on insurance, "Taking the 'It's Out of Living.'" He reviewed the history of insurance which began with the insurance of ship's cargoes and then of the ships' captains, and finally to the present inclusive program. He gave a clear picture of protective investments, and said that since a man usually spends 40 per cent of his income on himself, that amount can be deducted from the amount which his surviving widow would need. He also discussed the part of social security in considering protective investments.

Mrs. Irving B. Kiffin presided at the meeting, and gave a brief summary on Louis Alber's recent speech at the college on the months he had spent east of the Iron Curtain. His specific recommendations included a firm attitude in dealing with Russia, opposing Communism at home, and sending Communists out of the country; the opening of markets to world trade; and proving America's leadership by insisting that Russia conform to all agreements. He also cited the shortage of food in Russia as a factor to be reckoned with in dealing with that country.

Announcement was made of the regional membership meeting to be held in Milford on May 3, with April 28 as the deadline for reservations. Transportation may be arranged with Mrs. Russell Custard.

Mrs. Neil Martin, Mrs. J. Andoe and Mrs. Ellen Albenzi were welcomed as new members. Tribute was paid to the memory of two members of the council who died during the past month; Mrs. Frank Majestic and Mrs. John Dean. Mrs. Kiffin read a poem in tribute to all members who had died.

It was announced that Mrs. Gilbert Day, a member of the state board, would be the speaker at the May meeting when she will speak on "Women in Politics in Pennsylvania." Mrs. Floyd Bachman will be in charge of the program.

Tea was served after the meeting with Mrs. Homer Heller and Mrs. Harold J. Pine Jr. as co-chairmen of the hostess committee which included Mrs. W. Dolby Palmer, Mrs. Otto Paulson, Mrs. Fannie Kintner, Mrs. Anson Wright and Mrs. Russell Baggett. Jonquils and spring flowers decorated the tea table.

Just Between Us

—By Bobby Westbrook

If you thought that with school over you could count on the children helping with the pre-Easter preparations, you've found out by now.

Fishing season opens this morning which means that boys have vanished from town and home—some girls, too, by the way, who are as ardent fishermen as any boys you ever saw.

Moreover, afternoons are given over to choir practices for the coming Easter music and programs. And then they need some time outdoors, don't they, after a winter of being cooped up?

Well, they think so, at any rate. So either the Easter bunny goes it alone again, or else you cross your fingers and hope that Saturday will be different.

However, the social calendar has certainly calmed down a bit from the hectic pace of the last few weeks. Looks almost manageable again. But that's just the lull before the storm, because all the meetings postponed because of Holy Week will be landing on the regular meetings scheduled for the fourth week and we'll have meetings running out over the edges again.

Meanwhile on this Maundy Thursday, we may have a moment to examine our own hearts and decide what needs to be done to them before we're really ready for Easter.

Bridge Club To Open Over New Bridge

The new bridge across the Delaware has brought a new type of bridge to the community, it was revealed yesterday with the announcement that a Country Bridge Club will soon be opened at Harry's Farm, on the river road above Camp Karamac.

Harry's Farm, which up until now has been restricted to the members of the private club, plans to open public duplicate bridge games, similar to the ones operating in metropolitan areas. However, this is the first time that a Country bridge club has been formed in the country.

Harry Goldwater, nationally known tournament director, and Mrs. A. Turon, bridge expert and instructor, are now the guests of the owner, Harry Friedman.

Because of their presence, and to acquaint players in the area with his club, Mr. Friedman has scheduled duplicate games this Saturday and Sunday afternoons, April 17 and 18, to start at 2 p.m. The regular season is not due to open for several weeks, but local residents are welcome this weekend.

When the regular season opens there will be games every Friday and Saturday with master point games the second and fourth Fridays.

Secretaries Attend State Convention

Mrs. Gladys Serfass, Mrs. Ladora Bolcar and Mrs. Arlene Kresges have returned after attending the State NSA Convention, held at the Hotel Yorktown, at York.

Two hundred and sixteen secretaries from throughout Pennsylvania, Washington, D. C., and Wilmington, Del., assembled in the National Secretaries Association. Hostesses were members of the York White Rose Chapter, Mrs. Marie Glantz, president.

The new state officers for 1954-55 elected are Miss Florence Litzenberger, of Scranton, president; Mrs. Mildred Bryan, of Pittsburgh, vice president; Miss Ethel Ambler, of Philadelphia, secretary; and Catherine Gilchrist of Beaver Valley, treasurer.

Johnstown was chosen as the site of the next annual convention. The business session in Hotel Yorktown was in charge of Mrs. Pauline F. Miller, state president. The invocation was offered by the Rev. Harold E. Keller, pastor of St. Mary's Catholic Church.

A special service for the secretaries was held at 9 a. m. Sunday in Christ Lutheran Church. The Rev. G. G. Neely is pastor.

One of the convention highlights was an address by Robert Vogeler, American businessman who was interned by the Communists in Hungary for nearly two years. Vogeler spoke during the banquet, when Miss Bernice Sechrist acted as toastmistress.

Informally was the keynote of a problem-solving clinic held at the convention. Problems previously submitted by the secretaries were discussed by a panel moderated by Clifford A. Nelson, professor of economics and a staff official of the College of Business Administration at the Pennsylvania State University.

Unique feature of the programs was their similarity to a secretary's shorthand-notebook. Titled "Take A Note", the novel programs were developed by the York chapter members under the supervision of Miss Suchrist.

Theme of the convention was "Secretaries Look Ahead."

Latreia Class At Wheelers

Portland — Latreia Class of the Methodist Sunday School held their meeting on Friday night at the home of Mrs. Lewis Wheeler. Mrs. William Smith of Stateford, president, presided. Reports were given on the recent candy sale.

At the social hour refreshments were served to the following members Mrs. John Wildrick Jr., Mrs. Fred Farleigh, Miss Ruth Ervey, Miss Ella Jelinek, Mrs. Harry Bellis, Mrs. Russell Strunk, Mrs. William Smith and the hostess Mrs. Lewis Wheeler.

brass quartette and refreshments will be served by mothers of grades two and three.

Mrs. W. Smith President Of Portland Club

Portland — Mrs. William Smith was elected as president of the Portland Woman's Club at the meeting held Tuesday afternoon in the social rooms of the Portland Baptist Church.

Mrs. Randall Carpenter presided at the business meeting when the club voted $5 to the Cancer drive and $10 to the school's Easter egg hunt.

Other officers elected included Mrs. Horace Rusling, first vice president; Mrs. Raymond Scott, second vice president. Mrs. Howard Ott, Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon and Mrs. Philip Strunk were members of the nominating committee.

The club will vote on a trial change of meeting time and date for next year at the May meeting. The resignation of Mrs. Raymond Jewell was accepted.

Announcement was made of open house at New Hope on May 8, and members were asked by the Portland Nursing Home to assist in handwork for the guests there.

The program, planned by the garden group of the club, featured Bert Transue of Portland who showed slides of famous gardens and pictures of Japan in place of the scheduled speaker who was not able to attend.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Wallace Hutcheon, chairman; Mrs. Philip Strunk, Mrs. Arthur Feuser, Mrs. Rodena Macnamee, and Miss Agnes Williams. Floral decorations had been arranged by the garden group, and Mrs. Lawrence Ward and Mrs. W. S. Kennedy of the garden group poured.

Stroudsburg PTA Merges For Program

The Stroudsburg Parent Teachers Association will not meet on Monday night because of the school holiday, but instead will accept the invitation of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Stroudsburg Presbyterian Church to meet with them for study of juvenile delinquency.

THE Wyckoff SHOPPER

From the Netherlands comes an envelope addressed in the familiar handwriting of my boss, Mr. E. H. Wyckoff, who encloses a poem about the Wyckoff tour of Europe written by local banker, Frank B. Michaels. Mr. Michaels has a flair for putting everyday events into verse, and this particular poem is just as delightful to the average reader as it surely must be to those whose experience it recounts. I'm sure you'll enjoy it, so here it is just as it was printed aboard the Queen Mary.

The Wyckoff Tour of Europe
In the Spring of Fifty-four
Was th' rarest kind of outing,
With a group of thirty-four
The last of March, on Wednesday
Was the date arranged to sail
On the stately ship "Queen Mary,"
And, of course, we dare not fail
The day was bright and sunny
Though a chill was in the air
The meeting place — Grand Central
And everyone was there
But the lovely "Queen" was missing
As the tug-boat workers struck
And tied up all the harbour
And put us out of luck
Our journey to continue
And to find the stranded "Queen"
We left the "Grand" by Pullman
After lunch, at two-fifteen
We rambled through New England
And historic, old Vermont
Which, under all conditions,
Is a very pleasant jaunt
Still onward through New Brunswick
And the Province of Quebec
Looking for th' stranded "Mary"
And we'll find her, yet, by heck!
Our culture here was tested
Not to fuss or yet complain
While getting meals the hard way
Standing in line on the train
From here we travelled Eastward
With much snow along the way
Till we found th' stranded "Mary"
Still at anchor in the Bay
There she is, lo, behold her!
What a grand and thrilling sight
Etched against the far horizon
Filling us with pure delight
The trip was filled with pleasure
There's a lot that I could name,
With jokes, and games, and banter;
But the actual riot came
In the morning at three-thirty
With the bugle call to rise
When all was wild commotion
With stretches, yawns and sighs
I never could believe the Ladies (this I must confess)
Could look so truly lovely
In such stages of undress
Halifax, the port of sailing
Lies before us in the sun
Forty hours in the Pullman
Yet it seems 'twere just begun
All aboard the graceful liner
April Second — six o'clock
The golden sun is climbing
As the good ship leaves the dock
I dare not laud our talent
For everyone is pat
And each outdoes the other
So we'll let it go at that
And here's to Edna Brockman,
Who has done her part so well

P.S.—I'd like to correct one error. The poem above is not EXACTLY as Mr. Michaels wrote it, but as Mr. Wyckoff edited it. There was actually one more verse highly complimentary to my boss, and this he marked "not for publication." I obeyed and deleted it—but it isn't disobeying orders if I simply mention that there was such a verse, is it?

Sports Trail
Cue Master
Still Active
Despite Age

By Whitney Martin
New York (AP)—"Now when I was bat boy for Connie Mack in Milwaukee back in 1893 . . ."

You might expect the voice carrying those words to come out in a rasping cackle, but coming from Charley Peterson it was strong and vibrant. As strong and vibrant as the man himself, you might say, for at 76 this master of the cue and ivories could pass for an energetic 60 anywhere.

He's the most unretiring man we know, is this billiard trick shot artist whose slogan is "show me a shot I can't make." The billiard equipment manufacturer he worked for tried to retire him three years ago, but he declined to stay retired and signed up with the National Assn. of College Unions to promote the game through that medium.

There also is refuse to retire at night. Three a.m. is his usual bedtime, and he thinks he is oversleeping if he is up later than 7:30.

He's here on a stopover on his jaunts around the country. The past year he has covered more than 7,000 miles and appeared at 30 schools. He has made as many as 204 schools in one year, but admits that's a little strenuous.

The game of billiards is coming back, he declares. Not in the musty, smoke-saturated pool rooms which gave it a bad name, but among schools, in the home, and in clubs.

"There are more than 14,000 boys' club teams," he enthuses, "and 20,000 college kids, including girls, recently competed in a nationwide tournament."

Peterson, who thinks nothing of tottering around the streets six or eight miles just for exercise, and, except for fine print, never uses glasses, says he can do anything in billiards he could do as a young man.

"I just can't realize I'm as old as I am," he says. "I still can balance one ball on top of another, and still hit with the same power. I hit 11 cushions with a ball on a television appearance, and later, at Iowa State College, I made the ball travel 11 cushions and one-half inch."

His hands are the most remarkable part of this remarkable individual. They are strong, and quick, and supple, and so steady you get the idea that if anyone could thread the invisible eye of a needle with an invisible thread he would be the one to do it.

He carries only two cues, one of which he has used for 21 years. "I use a 21-ounce cue now," he says. "I found that among 20 star players the average cue weight is 20 ounces. I used to use a 27-ounce cue, but I broke it and cracked the ferrules and cracking the ivories."

"I believe the composition ball is better than the ivory ball now. It doesn't tend to 'roll off' or lose shape, as does an ivory ball. I use the one-half inch tip."

Peterson rates Willie Hoppe as the greatest all-around player the game has known. Jake Schaefer Jr. was the best balk line player in his estimation, and Willie Mosconi the best pocket billiard player who ever lived. Peterson himself has played some pocket billiards and has a high run of 66.

What we really were interested in, though, was how he stayed so young and healthy. He eats anything, at any time, doesn't smoke or drink, and averages only 4½ hours sleep.

We've tried that short-sleep business. It made an old man out of us.

Big League Baseball Returns To Baltimore Today

Baltimore's stadium . . . work still going on.

First American League Win In 52 Years To The Orioles

Detroit (AP)—Duane Pillette, a tall righthander, gave Baltimore a fancy going-home present yesterday—a strong six-hit effort for a 3-2 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Officially, it was the first American League victory in 52 years for the Orioles, who return to Baltimore Thursday for a gala home-coming against the Chicago White Sox.

Lemon Superb In Win Over White Sox

Chicago (AP)—Veteran righthander Bob Lemon allowed a triple and a scratch single in the first inning and then held the Chicago White Sox to one blow the rest of the way for a brilliant three-hitter which gave the Cleveland Indians a 6-3 victory yesterday. The Tribe then swept a two-game set from the Sox.

Lemon was in superb form after he yielded a walk to Bob Boyd, a booming triple to Minnie Miñoso and a roller to short, beat out by Ferris Fain, for two Sox runs in the opening inning.

It took a two-base error by first sacker Bill Glynn on Jim Rivera's smash opening the eighth to give the White Sox their third run. Rivera scored on Johnny Groth's single to center.

Glen Brook Opens Today

With improved greens and fairways, Glen Brook Country Club opens to the golfing set today.

A practice putting green with 18 holes is being installed in front of the clubhouse, and may be finished in a month.

Work has been done on the clubhouse, especially in the men's locker room.

Happy Lansdowne, greenskeeper, said yesterday the course is in better shape than ever before.

Tony Madiri, who served as pro last year, is back again.

Don Newcombe Hurls Dodgers To 6-4 Triumph Over Giants

New York (AP)—Big Don Newcombe, returning to the ball park that haunted him during two years of Army life, survived a late inning rally by the New York Giants last night for a 6-4 Brooklyn victory before 32,438 fans.

The last time the 27-year-old, Negro righthander worked in the Polo Grounds he left the fateful 1951 playoff game a few minutes before Bobby Thomson hit his "miracle homer" off Ralph Branca. Both Thomson and Branca departed while Newk was serving his Army hitch.

Until Don Mueller doubled with one out in the fifth, Newcombe had a no-hitter going. He lost his shutout in the seventh with the help of a Willie Mays' triple that Duke Snider might have caught and gave up another run in the eighth on a walk and singles by Al Dark and Hank Thompson.

Then he bore down, following a mound conference with Manager Walter Alston, to get Monte Irvin on a foul and strike out Mays. Ebba St. Claire's homer after Newcombe hit Mueller made it close in the ninth but he got home with a six hit.

Brooklyn's defending champions ripped into starter Ruben Gomez and a steady parade of relievers for 12 hits, three each by Gil Hodges and Carl Furillo, but left 12 on base. Hodges hit a home run on the roof of the left field stands off Al Corbin in the third and Junior Gilliam hit the screen atop the right field stands off Larry Jansen in the fourth.

A's Sell Cain To Ottawa

Philadelphia (AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics sold pitcher Bob Cain yesterday to Ottawa, their farm club in the International League. The A's obtained Cain from the Orioles this past winter in a trade for pitchers Joe Coleman and Frank Fanovich.

Jim Tatum, Maryland Coach, and Bud Wilkinson, Oklahoma coach, were on the football coaching staff of the powerful Iowa Pre-Flight Naval Training School team in 1941.

Second Round Of Openers To Draw 261,000

By Jack Hand
New York (AP)—Big league baseball returns to eager Baltimore today for the first time in 52 years to top a round of "second openers" that includes pennant-raising ceremonies at both Yankee Stadium and Ebbets Field.

Although the weather forecasts in most cities call for a warm, cloudy day with a threat of showers, the eight games are expected to draw about 261,000 fans.

Added to Tuesday's turnouts of 236,414, the total attendance for the 16 home openers will be close to the half million mark.

Here is today's program:

American League: Chicago at Baltimore, 2 p.m. Philadelphia at New York, 2 p.m. Washington at Boston, 2 p.m. National League: Pittsburgh at Brooklyn, 1:30 p.m. St. Louis at Milwaukee, 2:30 p.m. New York at Philadelphia, 1:30 p.m. Cincinnati at Chicago, 2:30 p.m.

Eager to outdo Milwaukee's frenzied greeting of a year ago, Baltimore expects 50,000 to pack the big Municipal Stadium where workmen still are busy. The "New Orioles," managed by Jimmy Dykes, will be given a rousing welcome in a parade through the city upon their arrival from Detroit where they split their first two games. Most of baseball's big brass will be on hand.

Bob Turley, a pitcher who drew rave notices for his work with a last place club last year, will work for the Orioles against Virgil Trucks, the Chicago White Sox' 20-game winner of 1953.

Milwaukee, still as enthusiastic as ever about its Braves, can't match the Baltimore crowd due to the smaller capacity of the park, but they'll jam in about 40,000 for the opener with the St. Louis Cardinals. Warren Spahn, the league's top pitcher in 1953, will do the honors for Milwaukee against Vic Raschi, the former Yankee who will be making his first National League start.

The world champion New York Yankees will use Tom Moryn against Philadelphia's Alex Kellner, the third lefthander they will have faced in three games. Kellner shut out the Yanks twice in a row last spring.

Yankee officials expect 30,000 to watch the opener, which will be preceded by pennant-raising ceremonies, dedication of a plaque to the late Ed Barrow and awarding of 1953 World Series mementoes. Cleveland counts on 50,000 to greet the Indians. Mike Garcia will pitch against Detroit's Ted Gray.

Boston's home opening, dimmed by the absence of Ted Williams, will find the Red Sox meeting Washington with lefthander "Mill" Henry opposing Washington's Bob Porterfield. The Fenway Park attendance forecast is 25,000.

Brooklyn must hoist its National League flag without benefit of band or organ music because the musicians are striking against the television station that carries Dodgers games. Gov. Tom Dewey will throw out the first ball. Russ Meyer will pitch for the Brooks against Pittsburgh's Max Surkont, former Milwaukee righthander. A crowd of 25,000 is expected.

The Philadelphia Phillies will send Murry Dickson against the New York Giants' John Antonelli in the Phils' opener with 15,000 watching. Both Dickson and Antonelli changed teams since last season, Dickson moving from Pittsburgh and Antonelli from Milwaukee.

Stan Hack, new Chicago Cubs manager, will be greeted by 25,000 at Wrigley Field for the Cubs' opener against Cincinnati. Bob Rush and Fred Baczewski, a former Cub lefthander, will be the pitchers.

Castellani, Nate Brooks Active Tonight

Cleveland (AP)—Rocky Castellani and Nate Brooks, two of the nation's top boxers, go into action tonight against a couple of opponents not expected to give them too much trouble.

Castellani, ranked No. 2 in the middleweight class by the National Boxing Assn. and No. 3 by Ring Magazine, trades punches with Pedro Gonzales of Pittsburgh.

Brooks will meet Mickey Mars, a fellow Cleveland, in the other 10-round bout on the arena card.

A third 10-rounder will put Paul-

AFTER APPROVING, with two changes, the proposals for the players' pension which the club owners adopted in Miami last month, league and player representatives pose in a Cleveland hotel, where the meeting took place. From left are Ralph Kiner of the Cubs; John Galbreath, president of the Pirates; Allie Reynolds of the Yankees and Hank Greenberg, general manager of the Cleveland Indians. They represented their leagues at the meeting. Revisions provide the plan will be extended beyond 1961 and th player representatives on the four-man committee will be active in baseball. Beginning in 1956, when the present radio-TV agreement on the All-Star game and the world series expires, the players' pension fund will receive 60 per cent of the All-Star game receipts and a like percentage from radio and TV coverage of both the game and the World Series.

Willie Jones Powers Phils Over Pirates

Pittsburgh (AP)—Third baseman Willie Jones moved up from seventh to leadoff in the batting order, contributing a two-run homer, a double and two singles in five trips to power the Philadelphia Phillies to a 6-0 victory over the Pittsburgh Pirates today behind the four-hit pitching of southpaw Curt Simmons.

Jones, replacing weak-hitting shortstop Ted Kazanski in the lead-off role, sewed up the game with a two-run homer over the leftfield wall after Simmons had singled in the third inning. Kazanski was dropped to seventh in the batting order.

Simmons, a 16-13 game winner last season, loaded the sacks in the fifth inning with three walks but pitched out of the jam by striking out rookie Jack Shepard and getting Eddie Pellagrini to fly out. All the hits off Simmons were singles.

Pellagrini replaced Sid Gordon at third after the aging infielder complained of a pulled muscle in the calf of his right leg in the fourth inning. Gordon injured the leg in making a brilliant stop of Kazanski's grounder in the third inning.

It was the 13th shutout of Simmons' major league career. He struck out four and walked four. He whipped the Pirates three times last year.

Paul LaPalme, the Pirates' starter, was lifted for a pinch hitter in the fifth after allowing three runs and six hits. Bob Purkey, a product of Pittsburgh sandlots and Johnny Hetki finished for the Bucs.

Del Ennis' double and Mel Clark's single gave the Phillies one run in the fourth. They added two more in the sixth on a base on balls, a single by Granny Hamner, an error by Curt Simmons and an infield out.

Jones drove in the final tally with a line double to left to score catcher Stan Lopata who had walked to start the ninth inning.

Outfielder Frank Thomas collected two of the Pirates' four hits off Simmons. Curt Roberts and Pellagrini got the others.

Seattle (AP)—Four shifts of doubles and singles squads take over the 32 alleys at Seattle's Armory today as the American Bowling Congress nears the end of its fourth week of action.

Only one game was recorded in the open division team standings. That came when Ferranti Ballantine of Scranton, Pa., eased into 10th place with a score of 2,920.

ie Brooks, Nate's brother, against Jackie Blair, Los Angeles lightweight.

None of the bouts will be televised.

Frick Directs Glove Removal Be Enforced

New York (AP)—Baseball Commissioner Ford Frick yesterday demanded strict enforcement of the new rule requiring players to take their gloves off the playing field with them when they come in to bat and threatened to forfeit ball games, if necessary, as a penalty.

Frick's warning was in the form of a five-paragraph bulletin sent to all major league clubs and minor league presidents.

The commissioner said he was disturbed about persistent reports that various leagues and clubs were going to make their own interpretation of the rule.

DeMarco Will Meet Carter

San Francisco (AP)—Aggressive Paddy De Marco, who won the lightweight title from Jimmy Carter in a resounding upset last month, will defend the championship against the same foe in a 15-round fight here June 2.

Signing of the "Brooklyn Billy-goat" and Carter was announced yesterday by Promoter Benny Ford. The bout will be held in the huge San Francisco Cow Palace. It will be nationally televised at 10 p. m. EST except for a northern California blackout.

When they met last March 5 in New York, Carter was a 4-1 favorite to retain his crown. The 30-year-old hard hitting New York Negro even was a 7-5 choice to stop his 26-year-old rival. De Marco appeared over the hill so far as his boxing career was concerned.

De Marco, who had never gone more than 10 rounds before, won the unanimous decision of two judges and the referee.

Two Errors By Senators Win For Yanks

Washington (AP)—Two errors in a row by Wayne Terwilliger handed the New York Yankees a 2-1 victory over the Washington Senators yesterday as Eddie Lopat, who doesn't seem to know how to lose to the Senators, beat them for the 12th straight time.

Johnny Schmitz was the victim of atrocious fielding as for the second straight day the Senators committed four errors.

The score was tied 1-1 as the Yankees came to bat in the ninth. And the crowd of 5,715 groaned at this sequence of events:

With one man out, Phil Rizzuto drew a walk. Taking a half swing Lopat topped third which Eddie Yost fielded and then pitched to Terwilliger for what looked like a certain double play. But the Twig dropped the ball.

Rizzuto sprinted to third on the misue and Lopat stopped at first. Enos Slaughter was sent in to run for Lopat.

Hank Bauer then lifted a soft pop in back of second but, incredibly, Terwilliger let it slide between his fingers and Rizzuto came home with the winning run.

Swim Team Elects

Bethlehem—Donald H. Williams, Fair Lawn, N. J., junior majoring in mechanical engineering, has been elected captain of the Lehigh University swimming squad for next season. He succeeds Robert W. Nick, Lancaster.

Jake LaMotta Loses Split Decision

Miami Beach, Fla. (AP)—Billy Kilgore, an unrated Miami fighter, bumped former middleweight champion Jake LaMotta off the comeback trail last night by scoring a 10-round split decision over the "Bronx Bull."

LaMotta, who said he was returning to the ring "just because I love to fight," couldn't have enjoyed last night's work much, because his old steam was gone. His best punches did little or no damage to his opponent.

Kilgore stabbed LaMotta through the fight with a stiff left to the face and several times made Jake blink with slashing overhand rights to the head.

Referee Peteey Sarron judged the fight 97-95 in Kilgore's favor. Judge Gus Jacobsen gave the Miami fighter a 98-94 edge. Judge Carl Gardner voted it 98-93 for LaMotta.

A crowd of 2,891 which paid a gross gate of $8,379 showed little enthusiasm for the fight and in the seventh round clapped and stamped for more action.

LaMotta, who quit the ring here 15 months ago when Danny Nardico stopped him in eight rounds, said he hadn't decided whether to make another comeback effort. He said he took it easy against Kilgore because "I thought I was ahead all the way."

Pirates Option Pitts, Naton

Pittsburgh (AP)—The Pittsburgh Pirates yesterday optioned pitcher Harry Pitts to New Orleans in the Class AAA Southern Assn. and catcher Pete Naton to Burlington, N.C. in the Class B Carolina League.

Pitts, a lefthander, from Indianhead, Pa., won nine and lost five last year with Denver in the Western League. Naton, a native of New York City, played with Charleston, S.C., in the Sally League, hitting .265 in 39 games.

SPORTS

SPUTTERINGS

By Walter L. Johns
Central Press Sports Editor

As the major league baseball teams swing into action for another season of play, the usual complement of newcomers begin to find more and more space on the sports pages, a few to become heroes to young and old alike.

It's much the same old pattern but it's sure to have its changes each year.

Not only in baseball have the newcomers provided a lift. Other sports have them, too, and the old guard continues to fade out of the picture.

In baseball the new glamor set includes Mickey Mantle, Harvey Kuenn, Ed Mathews and Harvey Haddis among those already in the record books. And, coming up are such new faces as Vic Power of the Athletics, Jerry Lynch of the Pirates, Wally Moon of the Cards and Rudy Regalado of the Indians.

A newcomer in golf, Billy Joe Patton of North Carolina, drew as much space in the recent Masters tourney as did Ben Hogan, Sam Snead and the other big favorites.

In boxing the list continues to grow. Where once the ring followers were dazzled by the exploits of the great Joe Louis and Sugar Ray Robinson, the newcomers such as Tommy Jackson, Bobo Olson, Paolo Rost and Lulu Perez are becoming national heroes, if they aren't that already.

Willie Shoemaker, while not a new hand at booting them in, has moved in on the upper ladder steps of such riders as Eddie Arcaro and Johnny Longdon and right now "Shoe" has the favorite in the Kentucky Derby and will draw plenty of attention through May 2.

In track and field the feats of Wes Santee of Kansas pushed the Jayhawker into the big type of the sports pages and he has replaced such former big stars as Bob Richards and Don Gehrmann in national interest.

While college football is in the off season, the sports pages soon will be crowded with the fantastic ball-carrying feats of the new wizard, J. C. Caroline of Illinois.

In basketball the names of Frank Selvy and Bevo Francis have become household words as the young men of the hardwood set all sorts of scoring marks in the season just closed.

The name players and champions in all sports are what draw the fans. Everyone loves a champion and we're getting quite a few new ones.

Redlegs Release Tappe To Tulsa

Cincinnati (AP)—The Cincinnati Redlegs yesterday released out-fielder-first baseman Ted Tappe to Tulsa of the Texas League. Tulsa then optioned him to Nashville in the Southern Assn.

The Redlegs also sold Rocky Krenich, an infielder, to Portland of the Pacific Coast League.

Two 25-Lap Events Slated At Nazareth

The season's first big speed show—a rebuilt half-mile clay track—will include two 25-lap feature events Sunday at 2 p.m. at the Nazareth Fairgrounds.

More than 50 New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania speed chauffeurs will open the show with a 25-lap feature, then put on a regular show with a 25-lap feature to wind up the day's racing.

The key driver to date, Chet Fehr, 23, Easton, will be the object of many challengers including his brother, Freddy, the 1953 champ.

Others are Ken Wisner, Otto Harvi, Norman Pleiss, Buddy Burgstesser, Joey Cryan, Stan Metz, Harry Charles, Dave Rapp and dozens of mile-a-minute speedsters.

Fire Damages Car At Bangor

Bangor—All three Bangor fire companies answered a call to douse a car fire last night at 8:20. The car belonged to Charles Eden, local baker. He lives at 614 Center St. The car was parked alongside Eden's garage. Eden discovered smoke pouring from the inside of the car when he went to the garage to get some tools. An alarm was turned in. The fire was put out by a hand extinguisher.

License Holders Must Comply With Local Time

Harrisburg (AP) — Retail liquor license holders will have to comply with local time observance when Daylight Saving Time begins April 25, the State Liquor Control Board reported yesterday. State stores also will open and close in conformance with local time observance, the board said. Hotel, restaurant and public service liquor licenses may sell liquor and malt or brewed beverages between 7 a.m. and 2 a.m. whether on Eastern Standard or Daylight Saving Time, except Saturdays when the closing hour is midnight, Eastern Standard or Daylight Saving Time.

Bangor Church Board Meets

Bangor—The Official Board of the First Methodist Church of Bangor held their meeting at the church Tuesday night, with Rev. W. L. Hackman presiding. Mrs. Robert Youlton and John W. Jones gave routine reports, and Raymond Stancombe and Francis Spry gave the trustees' report. Miss Shirley Fisher was elected junior lay delegate to the annual conference which will open May 12 in Arch Street Methodist Church, Philadelphia. The annual congregational meeting will be held Tuesday night, May 11, and the next official board meeting will be held Monday night, May 10. Rev. Hackman will deliver the sermon at the last union vesper services to be held in the Mackey Memorial Baptist Church April 25 at 7 p.m.

Pennoll Wheat Often Yellows

Each spring there have been many reports of fields of yellowed Pennoll wheat, but County Agent A. E. Ift reassures that each year this yellowing has disappeared with the coming of warmer weather and the variety has come through with good yields. In experiment station tests the last six years and extension variety demonstrations the last four years Pennoll has averaged three bushels per acre higher yield than Thorne variety. The yellowing of Pennoll, compared with green appearance of other wheat varieties, appears to be a variety characteristic of Pennoll having something to do with uptake of nitrogen or other elements during cool, moist weather. Topdressing Pennoll wheat with nitrogen in early spring has not prevented a period of yellowing during early spring.

Most Schools Close For Easter Recess

Most Monroe County schools closed for Easter vacation yesterday. Classes will be resumed in those schools on Wednesday, April 21. Closing today will be Mount Pocono, Barrett, Paradise and Coolbaugh Township schools. The first three named resume classes on April 22. Coolbaugh resumes Monday. Chestnut Hill and Polk schools have a half-day holiday only. Both schools close at noon on Good Friday; reopen with regular classes Monday morning.

April 23 Set For Pupils To Register

Portland—Registration of pupils who will enter school here in September will occur Friday, April 23 from 9:30 a.m. to 3 p.m. in the nurse's office. Children must be six years old on or before Feb. 1, 1955 to be eligible, it was announced. Parents are asked to bring a birth or baptismal certificate and proof of successful vaccination. And in addition any record of immunization against diphtheria, whooping cough or tetanus that is available.

Pope To Impart Benediction

Vatican City (AP)—The Vatican announced yesterday Pope Pius XII will appear on the loggia of St. Peter's Basilica to impart his apostolic "urbi et orbi" benediction to the city and the world on Easter Sunday. No mention was made of an address by the pontiff. In other years he has chosen Easter Sunday for some of his most important addresses. But this year, since his serious illness, he has limited himself to imparting blessings to audiences gathered in St. Peter's Square.

Commies Oppose Civil Defense

New York (AP)—The New York State Communist party proposed a change yesterday in the New York City budget.

It suggested striking out "the $1,600,000 allotted for the Office of Civilian Defense."

Kerwin, Mrs. Sutton Named To State Democratic Posts

Harrisburg (AP)—Patrick E. Kerwin, Lykens, Dauphin County attorney, yesterday was named Democratic campaign chairman for the May 18 primary election.

Appointment of Kerwin, who practices law in Harrisburg, was announced by Sen. George M. Leader, Democratic organization candidate for governor.

Kerwin has served three terms as Democratic chairman in Dauphin County.

He was a delegate to the 1948 and 1952 Democratic National conventions and formerly was vice president of the Young Democratic Clubs of Pennsylvania.

At the same time, Leader announced the appointment of Mrs. Helen D. Sutton, Easton, as vice chairman of the Democratic organization primary committee.

Additional officers and members of the committee will be announced early next week.

New Method Tests Salk Polio Vaccine

By Alton L. Blakeslee

Associated Press Science Reporter
Atlantic City, N. J. (AP)—A simple new test can answer the $64 question whether the Salk polio vaccine actually creates protection against polio.

It can show whether the vaccine shots create antibodies in the blood against one or all three types of polio virus, a team of University of Minnesota scientists maintain.

It can also be used to diagnose polio in susceptible children before there are any clear symptoms of the disease.

This test amazingly enough depends upon an unusual strain of cancer cells growing in test tubes. Polio virus added to the tubes will grow up on and kill the cancer cells.

A sample of blood serum can be added to the tubes first. If the blood contains antibodies, the polio virus placed in the tube will not grow. The test can measure how strong the antibody protection is.

New developments in this test were described by Drs. William F. Scherer, Richard Crowell and Jerome T. Syverton of Minnesota to the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology.

Dr. Jonas Salk's polio vaccine will be given this spring to upwards of one million children. Many will be given blood tests before and after taking the shots to see if the vaccine gives them protective amounts of antibodies. Dr. Salk can make such a test by using monkey kidney tissue to grow virus on.

The cancer cell test will also be widely used, by present plans, to measure antibodies. Dr. Syverton said. This test costs less. Thousands of tubes can be prepared.

The first wrought iron beams for building construction in the United States were made by Peter Cooper in Trenton, N. J., in 1854.

Health Council Endorses Salk Vaccination

Harrisburg (AP)—The Pennsylvania Health Council, coordinator of public health activities in the state, yesterday adopted a resolution giving "complete endorsement" to the Salk vaccination testing program.

Edward L. Sittler Jr., Uniontown, council president, said in a statement that the council feels the tests are "of such importance to the future health of the children of the commonwealth as to warrant the adoption of the resolution."

He added that the project has been endorsed by scientific and medical groups and that the safety of the vaccine has been proven beyond doubt.

The tests will be conducted on schoolchildren of Centre, Clinton, McKean and Mercer counties this spring.

Sale Of Gallon Jars Of Milk Starts Price War

Cumberland, Md. (AP)—The price of milk here has been slashed by 41 per cent in six weeks because of a battle touched off by sale of the product in gallon jars.

Housewives were paying $1 for four quarts of milk before last March 1, when the gallon container was introduced by a dairy. Today they can put the same quantity of milk in a gallon jar for 59 cents.

Of the dozen dairies in the Cumberland area, four now dispense milk only in "gallon jug" stores. Home deliveries have been abandoned. Three of the four operate their own dairy farms.

To meet competition from the "gallon" dairies, others have cut their prices. One introduced a package deal—two quarts for 24 cents.
